The diagram illustrates the PLEAS writing process. It consists of a table with six rows, each representing a step. The steps are: P (Pick a topic), L (List Ideas), E (Evaluate the List), A (Activate with a topic sentence), S (Supply with supporting sentences), and E (End with a concluding sentence). The table has three columns. The first column contains the letter, the second column contains the description, and the third column contains additional information or a list. Arrows indicate the flow of the process: a large arrow on the left points down from P to L, and another large arrow on the right points up from S to E. A small arrow points from the L row to the E row, and another small arrow points from the E row to the A row.
