Note ideas in complete sentences

Before PLANS Strategy:

Camels live in the desert. They have humps and they can drink a lot of water. They have long lashes. Camels can go without water for days. Their body is made for the desert.

Teacher's Annotations: - Lacks clear organization and sequencing - Sentences are short and disconnected - No introduction or conclusion - Minimal elaboration on details

After PLANS Strategy:

Camels are amazing animals that survive in the desert, one of the harshest places on Earth. Their bodies are adapted in many special ways. First, camels have humps that store fat, which provides energy when food is hard to find. Next, their long eyelashes and nostrils protect them from blowing sand and dust during storms. Finally, camels can drink up to 40 gallons of water in one sitting, allowing them to survive without water for long periods. These adaptations make camels perfectly suited to life in the desert.

Teacher's Annotations: -Organized into three main ideas with supporting details (List step)
-Follows logical sequence (Assign step) -Uses transitions and elaborated sentences (Note step)
-Revised for clarity and grammar (Search step)
